

January 10, 1991

Attorney General Don Stenberg.

CHIEF JUSTICE HASTINGS: (Administered Oath of Office to Attorney General Don Stenberg.)

SPEAKER BAACK: We will now have the swearing in of our new State Treasurer Dawn Rockey.

CHIEF JUSTICE HASTINGS: (Administered Oath of Office to State Treasurer Dawn Rockey.)

SPEAKER BAACK: Our new State Auditor of Public Accounts John Breslow.

CHIEF JUSTICE HASTINGS: (Administered Oath of Office to State Auditor of Public Accounts John Breslow.)

SPEAKER BAACK: And now our continuing Secretary of State Allen Beermann.

CHIEF JUSTICE HASTINGS: (Administered Oath of Office to Secretary of State Allen Beermann.)

SPEAKER BAACK: Now our new Lieutenant Governor Maxine Moul.

CHIEF JUSTICE HASTINGS: (Administered Oath of Office to Lieutenant Governor Maxine Moul.)

PRESIDENT MOUL PRESIDING

PRESIDENT MOUL: I would like to ask the Legislature's indulgence for some personal remarks and, first of all, I would like to introduce to you my family members seated here in front; my husband, Francis, my son, Jeff, my mother, Eva Burnett, my sisters, Kris Johnson and Karlene Mitchell, and my sister-in-law, Maxine Moul Cary from North Platte. As I accept the gavel to preside over this Legislature, I am very mindful of the rich heritage of this Unicameral and of the presiding officers that have preceded me. I am also very aware that I make history as the first woman to hold this position. I look forward to a time when we no longer comment on firsts for women and I am thankful that we have so many role models in this Legislature for the young women of this state. My hope is that the members of this Legislature will find my tenure here, as your presiding officer, one that is competent, consistent, and